BAKER IS GRUELLED BY SOLONS' QUESTIONS

Senators Declare that Baker's Statement that Supplies Are Ample Will Lull the Nation to Sleep.

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Washington, January 11.—Secretary Baker's examination before the Senate Military Committee was warmed up by a rapid fire of questions by Senators of both parties who did not agree with the generally favorable view of war preparations depicted by Secretary Baker's statement of yesterday.

The senators declared his declaration that war supplies were adequate would mislead the country. Senator Weeks declared the country "should not be lulled to sleep by a general statement of facts that don't exist." Mr. Baker explains that he meant to convey the impression that all the men ready for the fighting lines were adequately equipped.

LITTLE CHILD MAY SOLVE MURDER CASE

Solution of Cleveland's Latest Murder Mystery Depends on Story of Little Girl.

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Cleveland, January 11.—Solution of Cleveland's newest murder tragedy, the shooting of Chas. Joyce, traveling salesman for a New York firm by Elmer Hupp, Cleveland oil and gas developer, in the Hupp home last night, today seemed to hinge upon statements that may be made to the police by the 14 year old daughter of the confessed murderer when she is questioned today.

According to Hupp he shot and killed Joyce when he discovered him in his home in Lakewood. Hupp told the police he killed Joyce because of attention the latter had evidenced toward Hupp's wife.

WOMAN SUFFRAGE IS A STEP NEARER

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Washington, January 11.—Woman suffrage was a step nearer today as the result of the victory in the House last night when a resolution was adopted authorizing submission to the states of the Susan B. Anthony amendment for national enfranchisement of women.

SHOOTS HUSBAND

MRS. MAUD N. KAFFITZ.

Because her husband, William Kaffitz, a wealthy retired German, attempted to tear up Liberty bonds which she had purchased, Mrs. Maud N. Kaffitz, an American woman, shot and seriously wounded him at their residence at Los Angeles, Cal. The police refused to arrest her.

GETTING READY TO FIGHT IF BREAK COMES

Bolsheviki Leaders Are Not Going to Put Themselves Wholly at the Mercy of Germany.

(By Associated Press Cable) London, January 11.—Confirming previous reports that the Bolsheviks are preparing to re-establish the fighting power of the army against a possible break in the negotiations with the Central Powers, the Petrograd correspondent of the Daily News says that they are not attempting to reanimate the old worn out army, but are trying to create a new and much more efficient one.

CONFESSES HAVING SET FIRE TO BARN

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Columbus, O., January 11.—John Reynolds, a negro, confessed today to starting the fire which destroyed the Tremont Hotel, causing the death of A. J. and Emma Legore, in Circleville, Wednesday night, according to State Fire Marshal Fleming.

Reynolds in a written confession declared he was paid $25, given a black horse and allowed what he owed on another horse by Cecil Runkle, a white man of Circleville.

Runkle had an auto in a barn in the rear of the hotel, where the fire was started, on which he had the day before taken out $800 insurance, according to information given the fire marshal's office.

Owing to Non-acceptance by Entente Nations Central Powers Regard Offer as Null and Void.

The Austrian Foreign Minister Thinks Agreement With Russia Will be Made.

Intent to Draw Away from No Annexations and No Indemnity.

(Associated Press Cable.)

Amsterdam, January 11.—The Central Powers have withdrawn their peace terms made public at the Brest-Litovsk conference on December 25th, it was announced by Dr. Von Kuehlmann, the German foreign secretary, in his speech at the peace conference with the Russians yesterday.

Owing to the nonacceptance by enemy powers of the terms, he said, they had "become null and void."

The establishment of a separate peace with Russia apparently is the present aim of the Central Powers. According to Amsterdam dispatches the Austro-Hungarian foreign minister told the delegates that inasmuch as the Allies had not replied to the invitation to take part in the negotiations a separate peace is now the question at issue.

While opposing transfer of the conference to neutral territory, the Austrian Foreign Minister is said to have declared that if the Russians were animated by the same intentions as the representatives of the Central Powers, the result of the negotiations would be satisfactory.

RECEDE FROM PEACE OFFER

The Central Powers' peace terms of December 25 were voiced by the Austro-Hungarian foreign secretary. They expressed willingness to conclude a general peace without forcible annexations and indemnities and announced it was not the intention of the Central Powers to deprive of political independence those nations which had lost it during the war, but stipulated that the question of the political independence of nationalities not now possessing it, could not be solved internationally, but must be left to each government and its people.

This qualified recognition of the right of self determination was made use of in the concert terms for a treaty later proposed to Russia by the Central Powers in which it was claimed that this right had been already exercised in Poland, Courland and Lithuania.

The refusal of the Central Powers to consent to the withdrawal of their troops from the Riga region led to the temporary interruption of the negotiations and the counter proposals by the Russians that further conferences be transferred to Stockholm.

In offering the terms a ten day limit for the Entente to express itself was set, but no response was forthcoming.

DECLARE REPUBLIC

(By Associated Press Cable)

Petrograd, January 11.—Report from Rostov today says that the Republic of the Don has been declared existent with General Kalaidas as president and prime minister.

ALLIED HEROES DECORATED IN BELGIUM

ALLIED HEROES

General Anthoine, of the French Army, is shown decorating French, English, Scotch and Belgian heroes of the many big drives of this Autumn. It is particularly interesting to note the different types of the Allied forces. In the background can be seen French troops at salute.

WILL CONTINUE NEGOTIATIONS WITH RUSSIA

Central Powers Have Their Way and Will Meet Russ at Brest-Litovsk.

Lenine Says if Central Powers Don't Accept Terms the Bolsheviks Will Prepare for War.

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Peace negotiations between Russia and the Central Powers will be continued at Brest-Litovsk, according to information in Amsterdam, apparently despite a vigorous protest by the Bolsheviks.

At the opening of the new sitting of the conference Russian delegates demanded the delegates go to Stockholm. Premier Lenine is said to have declared that if the Central Powers do not accept Russian peace terms the Bolsheviks will declare war against Germany.

The firm determination of Germany and her allies not to consent to a transfer of the negotiations to Stockholm has been reiterated. The Austrian foreign minister is reported to have declared that a transfer of the negotiations to neutral territory would give the Entente an opportunity to interfere to prevent a separate peace with Russia.

TAKE PRINT PAPER CONTROL IN HAND

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Washington, January 11.—Proposed government control of the news-print paper industry was under fire in the Senate today with Senator Harding, an Ohio publisher, leading the opposition.

COLD WAVE

Columbus, O., January 11.—(Associated Press Dispatch)—The Ohio Weather Bureau here today issued a warning that an extreme cold wave and snow will strike the state tonight and tomorrow. The cold wave will last two or three days.

MAY LAUNCH FURTHER FOOD SAVING PLAN

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Columbus, O., January 11.—Measures to effect a further saving of essential foods may be looked for in the near future by Ohio people, according to announcement today by Fred C. Croxton, Food Administrator, who returned from a conference with Federal Food Administrator Hoover.

Among the changes being considered are:

First—Two wheatless days instead of one.

Second—One porkless day each week instead of the present meatless day—the porkless day probably to be Saturday.

Third—Further limitation of wheat in the manufacture of bread by bakers. The plan under consideration would provide that only 80 per cent wheat flour be used in the making of bread; the other 20 per cent being composed of flour from other grains.

Fourth—Further restriction of flour in the manufacture of crackers and macaroons.

COPPER PRICES

By Associated Press Dispatch.

New York, January 11.—Copper producers here received word from Washington that an agreement had been reached with the federal authorities for fixing the price of copper at 23 1/2 cents per pound for the next four months.

PLAN FINANCE FOR CUBA'S SUGAR CROP

Scheme Involves Expenditure $150,000,000.

By Associated Press Dispatch.

New York, January 11.—A plan under which New York banking interests would finance the next Cuban sugar crop involving an expenditure of $150,000,000 is under consideration. If the plan matures as it is hoped money will be assured to finance the next crop in Cuba.

ROBBERY SUSPECT TAKEN IN CUSTODY

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Toledo, O., January 11.—William Shipman, of Cleveland, accused of being one of the three men who robbed the Higbee store of Cleveland of $69,000 in cash, diamonds and furs on November 25th, was arrested here last night.

The robbers, it is alleged, gained an entrance to the store at night by impersonating policemen. They blew the safe and looted the fur and jewelry department. A reward of $1,000 was offered for their arrest, the police here were informed.

WOMAN IS HELD ON SPY CHARGES

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Hanford, Cal., January 11.—Elizabeth Guistorf was arrested here today, and held on suspicion of being a German spy. Two seditious letters, one referring to Fort Grant, Oregon, and the Presidio of San Francisco and the other a mysterious net of plans were discovered in her possession.

AUSTRIA IS HOSTILE TO PROPOSALS OF WILSON

British Troops in Ypres Sector Execute Successfully Three Raids.

Casualties Inflicted and Prisoners Captured.

Austro-Germans Are Forced to Evacuate Trenches in Italy.

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Initial comment in the German and Austrian press on President Wilson's message is bitterly hostile. His program is declared to be unacceptable and one paper says it is "more brutal" than the recent statement of Premier Lloyd George. The President is accused of desiring to hinder the peace negotiations.

British troops in the Ypres area have executed successfully three raids into the German lines. Many casualties were inflicted and prisoners taken.

Austro-German forces yesterday were forced to evacuate some trench sections on the Italian front, the War Office announced today.

The retreating Tontons were caught under the Italian fire and suffered heavy losses.

CHURCHILL MAKES APPEAL FOR TROOPS

(Associated Press Cable)

London, January 11.—Winston Churchill, British minister of munitions, addressing the American luncheon club today, made a powerful appeal for the sending of American soldiers to Europe quickly and in as large numbers as possible.

Mr. Churchill said England had guns, men and fuses waiting for shells. Preparations were under way, he added, to meet the German hordes coming from the east. Although he had no doubt of victory, Mr. Churchill declared the coming year would be the hardest of the war.

BRAVE LADS ARE PRAISED

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Washington, January 11.—Secretary Daniels made public today a summary of the official reports of Lieutenant Commander David Bagley, on the sinking by a German submarine of the American destroyer Jacob Jones, on December 5th, when two officers and 64 men lost their lives.

Commander Bagley gives praise to the behavior of officers and men.

RETIRED ADMIRALS RECALLED TO SERVICE

ADMIRAL CAMERON WINSLOW

REAR-ADMIRAL WILLIAM ALEXANDER MARSHALL

REAR-ADMIRAL THOMAS HOWARD

Among the many retired naval officers who have been recalled for service by the United States, are some who have already done their "bit" Rear-Admirals William Alexander Marshall, Thomas Benton Howard and Cameron McKee Winslow have all passed the retiring age of sixty-two years. Rear-Admiral Howard, then a lieutenant, was one of the heroes of Manila. In 1898, when Admiral Dewey smashed the Spanish fleet in the battle of Manila Bay, Lieutenant Howard was at the wheel of the Concord. Admiral Winslow, then a junior lieutenant aboard the Gunboat Nashville, was one of those who volunteered to cut the Spanish cables. In 1911 he commanded the President's yacht, the Mayflower. Rear-Admiral Marshall assisted in fitting out the mosquito fleet during the Spanish War.

experiences since I last wrote you. At present we are "Somewhere in European waters," but more definite than that, the censor will not permit me to say. Nor can I tell you what we are doing or have done, but you can bet that we won't loaf on the job very much while over here. I also might say that it looks as though we are due to spend a year or two on this side of the water.

The censor says we may write about our trip across, so here goes. We were twelve days making it, taking a zigzag course and avoiding all other ships as much as possible. I was seasick for a couple of days, but after that was o. k.

Thanksgiving night is the time that will live long in the memory of the men on this ship. During the early part of that night we never knew whether we would come through safe or go to the bottom. Early Thursday morning the storm began to brew. I was on watch at the speed cone on the lower bridge at the time and only by grasping something could I cross the deck without being blown off my feet. The waves were then breaking clear over the bridge. It increased in violence hourly and by evening the worst hurricane any man on the ship had ever experienced was raging. Our life lines and both life boats were carried away and the steamers smashed and splintered. All night we baled and pumped water. It was terrible. Unless you saw it yourself you wouldn't believe how the mountains of water struck the ship, making her tremble and grind from fore to aft. The general opinion was that we would not have lasted five hours longer driving as we were in the teeth of the storm. So we had to change our course and run away from it—that was all that saved us. For three days the storm lasted with little decrease in violence. For three days, I never had my clothes off and had little sleep. Continually pumping and baling water. Our rations those three days were hard tack and coffee and canned "bill." It was a terrible experience and one not likely to be soon forgotten.

The men all showed fine spirit during the storm and I saw none lose their nerve or shirk. I never dreamed that a big, heavy ship like this could be picked up and tossed about like a leaf, and battered until she looked as though she had been in a big battle.

This will very likely be a Christmas letter by the time it reaches you, or perhaps New Years.

As yet we haven't had any shore liberty and may not get any liberty for some time. Am anxious to get ashore and look around some. Hope to get some gifts over here and send home. I'll tell you, Father, I'd appreciate some nuts, figs and dates more than anything if you can find it convenient to send them. Those things we never get on the ship. If you send them I would advise using a small wooden box, well seasoned.

I am feeling fine, took me three or four days to recuperate from the trip across, but am o. k. now.

Love,

SON.

U. S. S. Florida, in European Waters.

CALL BY NUMBER ON BELL TELEPHONE

Beginning Saturday morning at 7:30 subscribers of the Bell Telephone in this city and county must call by number instead of merely by name.

This rule is to be rigidly enforced, and only the call for the fire department will be given attention without the number.

In emergency cases where there are calls for doctors the lid will be tilted and the doctor called without the necessity of looking for the number. However, in all other cases call must be made by number and not by name.

The new directories of the company were distributed Friday, and notice of the change of rules is given a conspicuous place on the new directories and the announcement made that by adoption of the new rule it is hoped to improve the service and obtain quicker connections with the party wanted.

Under the old method of calling by name it was necessary for operators to first look up the number of the party, unless they were familiar with it, and this caused several seconds' delay. Immediate ringing of the number is possible under the new rule, and a greater number of calls can be handled in a given time, and without a moment's delay.

The Daughters were deeply appreciative of a donation of $50.00 from Mr. and Mrs. Charles Persinger and other personal donations which were of substantial assistance in raising the amount.

The appointments of Thursday afternoon, in every way duplicated those of the earlier affair.

Mrs. W. B. Woodward, Regent and Mrs. E. N. Holloway poured at the pretty tea table, while Mesdames R. M. Hughey, H. T. Wilkin and Jesse Persinger assisted in the tea room.

The handsome country home of Mr. Roy Hagler was hospitably thrown open Thursday for a noon dinner and subsequent meeting of the Spring Grove Unit N. L. W. S., which devotes each Thursday to War Relief work.

Seated at the dinner table were Mesdames Val McCoy, Frank M. Kennedy, E. F. Todhunter, Letitia Dill, Hays Dill and little son, Howard, S. A. Marshall, Misses Mary Robinson, Montress Farrett and Clemmens, Messrs Roy and Howard Hagler.

Later in the afternoon the spacious home was filled with the women of the Unit and the hours passed rapidly leaving their record of perfectly done work.

The women of Spring Grove Unit are doing a splendid part in making necessary articles for war relief work and there is no more live and interested Unit in the county.

Fifteen girls of Mrs. Ada Jones' class of the M. E. Sunday School were delightfully entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Hendryx, Thursday evening, with Misses Elizabeth Hendryx, Laura Helen DeWees and Donna Barnett a trio of attractive young hostesses.

Games, contests and dainty refreshments all contributed to the evening's pleasure.

Sweaters, socks and scarfs quickly took shape, Thursday afternoon, when Mrs. Floyd Eichelberger pleasurably entertained the "Cozy Corner" Club at her country home, "Brookside" near Jeffersonville.

The additional guests of the club were Mrs. Frank L. Parrett, Mrs. Wert Baughn and Miss Doris McCoy.

Y. W. F. M. Society met in church parlors Thursday afternoon with a good attendance and much interest.

After devotionals, Mrs. G. S. Hodson had charge, giving ably a general review of the work done last year by the Foreign Missionary Society.

Miss Irene Tobin recited to music the song, "When Her Soldier Boy Passed By"—Lena Fisher.

At the close of the program the society voted to give their yearly pledge to be used in Mission Evangelistic work, as Dr. Beto directs.

The society also decided to form a Unit for Red Cross work, meeting two afternoons in each week at the home of Miss Mary Craig.

The meeting was adjourned to meet the 1st Thursday in February.

"As a happy compliment to Miss Margaret Willett, previous to her departure for Washington, D. C., Miss Mazie Priddy and Miss Ruth Detrich entertained a number of friends at the home of Miss Priddy. The affair was a complete surprise to the popular guest of honor, but all the more appreciated for that. A shower ring of pretty gifts contained mementoes which will remain as pretty and useful souvenirs of the evening."

Thursday, The Greenfield Republican

Miss Louisa Jarnigan daughter of Mr. William Jarnigan of the Jeffersonville pike and Mr. Ralph E. Duckwall, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Duckwall of Peabody avenue, were united in marriage, Thursday evening at five o'clock at the home of Dr. C. C. Hazzard. Rev. G. E. Grove officiated.

The young couple will not go to housekeeping at present as the groom is subject to call to service. Their friends throughout the county are extending best wishes.

Mr. and Mrs. Homer McCune entertained with a delicious oyster supper Thursday evening. Three bountiful courses of piping hot oysters with all the accompanying delicacies were served.

Pink and white carnations were used in table decorations.

The guests were; Mr. and Mrs. V. J. Hoppess, Mr. and Mrs. T. T. Watts and son Leonard.

Mrs. Nannie Brown, of Bellfontaine is the guest of Mrs. Mary Cutting.

Secretary Baker's Statement

The candid statement issued by Secretary of War Baker, regarding the results accomplished by the war department officials in the tremendous work of war preparation, gives great satisfaction to the American people.
The issuance of a, comparatively complete, statement, by Secretary Baker, was inspired by the adverse criticism, which has been heaped upon the war department by many, too critical and some evilly inclined persons.
Perhaps the close censorship which the department has maintained regarding all plans and all accomplishments has invited the misunderstanding which Secretary Baker is now trying to clear up.
Sometimes we, on the outside of the great military drama now being enacted, are inclined to think that there is much useless secrecy maintained by the authorities.
The people of any nation, especially in free America, like to know what the government officials are doing, what has been accomplished, how our boys are faring as to equipment and food.

In these tense times of national distress it relieves the anxious minds of the patriotic people, if they can be assured, by those who know, that something is actually being done.
It will do no harm, at least the civilian population is of that opinion, to announce the progress of the great work.
We have reason to be proud of what has been done and if we had been told sooner we warrant there would have been less undeserved criticism of what is proven to be, a very efficient, department headed by a wonderfully capable, but unassuming Secretary of War.

The Labor Supply

In discussing plans for the mobilization of the workers of the land, Secretary Wilson, of the Department of Labor, makes the encouraging announcement that there is an abundance of labor supply in the nation, both for the army and for industry and that only three per cent of the number, usually employed under normal conditions, would be taken for the army.
The problem of getting the work done during the year is, according to Secretary Wilson, one of distribution of workers rather than one of supply.
In the agricultural sections of the country men are looking forward to the coming seasons of seed time and harvest with no little anxiety. The problem of securing the necessary labor is one which gives them no little concern and in their anxiety the whole nation must participate because the whole war establishment and the entire commercial life rests wholly upon the production in our agricultural sections.
The problem of proper distribution of the labor supply between cities and country is a tremendous one, in view of the varying wage offers and surroundings.
To distribute the supply of labor among the industrial centers is not so difficult. The distribution of the available farm labor, so as to meet the demands in the agricultural regions, is not so difficult, either, but when it comes to apportioning the entire labor supply, according to the needs between the two great practical knowledge coupled with the theoretical ability will be required.

The Oil Supply

As a military measure, to better guarantee the supply and proper distribution of oil, both that produced in this country and that imported from Mexico, to assume control of both the crude and the refined product, the government is going to appoint an oil dictator.
There is no question that the supply of crude oil, from which the gasoline is secured is one of the big factors in the conduct of the war.
Without gasoline the immense motor truck trains that carry the ammunition, the clothing and the food to the armies at the front would stop, the local movements of troops in the war zones would be measurably retarded—crippled in fact—the great fighting forces of the air would be helpless and thousands of war industries would be paralyzed.
Perhaps no one single supply of raw material is so vital to the conduct of the war, on the battle fronts and behind the lines, as oil. It is vital to the prosecution of the war and to the permanence of the military establishment of the nation, that our supply of oil be conserved and guaranteed.
How else can security from the menace of a loss of that very vital necessity be obtained save by government control.
The only objectionable feature to the proposed control is that the new department is to be made a part of the fuel commission, the workings of which have been so unsatisfactory and barren of practical results.
So far as Dr. Garfield is concerned the people of Ohio cannot be censured for having their doubts about his ability to handle, even through a capable assistant, the tremendous work of controlling the oil supply.

Poetry For Today

AUTOMOBILE SONG.

Old Egypt had swift chariots that rolled beneath the sun,
With Swarthy Ethiopians that by their side did run;
Thus Rameses from Memphis to Cairo thundered down—
But swifter are the wheels we ride from busy town to town.
Assyria and Persia had their elephants and trains
Of mules and horses, silver-shod, with bells upon their reins;
The camels carried mighty men through Caldea to Ur—
But they would look like vagabonds to hear our motors purr!
We rous up in the dawning, before the shadows fade,
We meet the morning's pageant with jeweled dew displayed;
We break the mist wreaths waiting where the river's opals run,
And poise upon the hilltops like the chariots of the sun.
We swing around the corners like the comets round the stars;
We take the bending highways swift to far horizon bars.
The bridges sway and tremble while the breeze is wholly ours,
And we greet the shaded places and the scent of pine and flowers.
From mountain unto mountain our horns a warning cry;
Our cars go down the beckoning grade as happy swallows fly;
The slower ages vanish; we are lords of oil and steel,
Children of the wings of morning, masters of the spark and wheel.
—Springfield Union.

NEWS NOTES FROM CAMP SHERMAN

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Camp Sherman, Chillicothe, O. January 10.—Married men who are willing to leave home and fireside to join the army may do so now, according to official army orders published in The Camp Sherman News today. The Camp Sherman News is the official organ of the Eighty-Third Division in training here.

The orders were received from Major General John Biddle, acting chief of staff of the War Department at Washington, and read:

"Paragraphs 552, 1412 and the last paragraph of sub-paragraph 4 or 1009, army regulations, are suspended during the period of the existing emergency, so as to permit the voluntary enlistment of married men under the same conditions as is provided for single men."

It has been called to the attention of the Treasury Department, says today's Camp Sherman News, that loan sharks are operating in the National Army and National Guard camps and directing their attention especially toward loans on Liberty Loan bonds.

Loans of from $50 to $75 are made on a $100 bond, at rates as high as ten per cent. The army publication warns the draft men at Camp Sherman against making such loans, and points out that any reputable bank will give the market price for bonds and should be willing to loan on them at reasonable rates.

Girl Killed by Truck.

GLAD TO FIND TANLAC SOLD IN NEW HOME

Tried Tanlac in Georgia and Says it Built Her Right Up So that She Gained Ten Pounds.

"I was mighty glad when I moved to Cincinnati to learn that Tanlac was sold in my new home because I wouldn't be without this medicine," said Mrs. J. P. Paris, 420 West Eighth street, Cincinnati.

"It was in Atlanta, Ga., that I first heard of Tanlac. I had tried medicine after medicine without being helped. Then I took Tanlac and after that I seemed to get a new grip on life.

"I was weakened and run down before I took Tanlac. I was so nervous that my body twitched all over and I slept poorly at night and got little rest.

"My appetite was poor, too. Why, I didn't even eat enough to nourish my body properly.

"I had pains in my arms and limbs almost all the time and the pains under my shoulder blades were almost more than I could stand.

"My appetite got better right away after I started taking Tanlac. I've gained ten pounds now and I'm still gaining.

"My nerves are back in good shape again now, too, and I sleep fine nights and get up in mornings feeling good.

"I certainly do recommend Tanlac. If people who feel like I used to will just try one bottle of Tanlac I'm sure they'll be convinced.

If you are not feeling right get Tanlac today at Blackmer & Tanquary's drug store, Frank Christopher's drug store, or C. S. Haver's drug store.—Advt.

WILL GIVE AID TO CIVILIANS OF FRANCE

(By Associated Press Cable)

ALLEGED SLACKER IS UNDER ARREST

Held for endeavoring to evade the United States military draft laws by failing to register last June, Willie West, 23, colored, has confessed his guilt, according to Federal agents who state that West admitted that he tried to evade the draft law and did not register.

Receiving a quiet tip from a citizen of the community, turned into the office of the Local Board, the matter was placed before the Federal agents who conducted an investigation and obtained a declaration from West that he had registered in Greene county and had lost his registration card.

This was taken up with the Greene county board and after a search of their records, announcement was made that West had never registered in Greene county. The young man was then taken into custody and brought to this city, where he is said to have admitted that he did not register, after which he was confined in the county jail until a United States Marshal from Columbus takes him in charge and conducts him before the United States Court to plead to the charge of evading the draft laws.

West is one of the several alleged slackers who according to investigators, are located in this county, and who have a chance of saving themselves a great deal of embarrassment and punishment by reporting at once to the office of the Local Board.

ANNUAL BUSINESS MEETING OF THE BAPTIST CHURCH

Officers Re elected and Reports Received First Baptist Church in Very Healthy Financial and Spiritual Condition At Head in Missions.

There was a large, enthusiastic gathering of the members of the First Baptist church, Thursday night on the occasion of the annual business meeting. Full reports of all the working activities and departments showed a year of great progress for the church.

The gain in membership was near the hundred mark. The church made its usual fine record of closing the year with all financial obligations met, which means all bills paid.

The missionary work of the church exceeds all previous years. It contributes to every denominational cause. Not only were all apportionments met in full, amounting to hundreds of dollars, but fifteen percent was added to the whole amount placing them in the highest honor list of Baptist church in this country in missionary contributions.

The reports indicated that the work in this community also had its generous support, in the Public Welfare Board, the Y. M. C. A. work, and every charitable cause.

The church has heeded and helped in every appeal of the nation in the great world war; Liberty Bond, the Red Cross, and in giving her men. It has taken hard work and great sacrifice in many instances to accomplish all the above results.

The church faces another year with desire and determination to do and give its utmost. There is unity and good fellowship among the members expressed in a fine spirit of Christian democracy and equality.

The following officers were elected for the coming year. A trustee to serve the Board for five years, Albert Snider; Church Treasurer, Harry Wood; Church Clerk, Miss Clara Conn; Chorister, Mrs. John Browning; Assistant, Mrs. Walter McLean; Organist, Miss Mabel Briggs; Assistant, Mrs. J. Howard Hicks; Chief Usher, Howard McLean; Assistant Ushers, Irvin Bell, Albert Snider, Harry Wood, William Fogle, Robert McLean, Virgil Vincent; Sunday School Superintendent, J. Howard Hicks; Assistant, Mr. Irvin Bell.

NATIVE FRENCHMAN CAPTIVATES CLASS

Not of the group of local people who met Prof Leopold Cardon, of the Ohio State University for the purpose of forming a French class at the Y. M. C. A. Thursday night but realized that the opportunity to secure so able an instructor was one quite out of the ordinary.

In Prof Cardon they met the genuine Parisian—the native Frenchman with all the vivacity and redundant Frenchman who expresses more in a shrug of the shoulder or a wave of the hand than does many a man in a burst of oratory. A graduate of the University of Paris, a specialist in his line and having many years of experience as a teacher, Prof. Cardon was commissioned by the government to teach in America and, with his wife, also a fine French student has now been in this country for several years. He taught in Baltimore before becoming a member of the O. S. U. faculty three years ago.

Prof. Cardon meets the requirement of the present day student of French in his methods, teaching conversation French in such a way that it is quickly learned. He introduces only such an amount of grammatical construction as is absolutely necessary. By the use of Black Board exercises and practical application the study is much simplified and more easily impressed. Prof. Cardon uses his own text book.

Twenty-five signed up for the class Thursday night. Twenty-eight signatures must be secured by Saturday night in order to secure Prof. Cardon and establish the class. A term of twenty lessons will be given for $10 if the class is larger than this the price will be somewhat less. The class will meet every Thursday night at 7:30 at the Y. M. C. A.

Any one interested in learning two French language will find this class offering unusual advantages and may be assured that the language will be correctly taught and as quickly as possible.

Those who contemplate joining the class will please report to Miss Elizabeth Johnson, city librarian.

FARM HORSES DISCUSSED BY ROY HAGLER

Fayette County Farmer Expresses His Experiences and Opinions as to the Motive Power on the Farm.

(The following very interesting and splendidly written article, by Mr. Roy Hagler, appearing in the Christmas number of The Breeders Gazette, is reproduced because of the importance of the subject discussed, the general interest attaching to such subjects and the literary merit of the article. It is a splendid article, read it.—Ed.)

"There can be nothing wonderful in this narrative. Can it be of value to your readers? Only as some may be led to join the ranks of those who are breeding purebred stock. For one it may be cattle; for another hogs, sheep or poultry. For me it was the Belgian, and how Belgians have helped in addition to the draft power they furnish will be a large part of my story. It is a chapter from a life-story on a farm in a good section of Ohio. To me, because it is home, it is a good farm in the very best section, and to me Belgians are best for their purpose because they have helped in many ways to maintain that farm home. That some other breed might perhaps have done as well does not matter. No other had the chance. For several years before 1910 I had used mules as farm teams. Further back, from good drafty mares, some what overworked, I had raised a scattering crop of colts. When I sold the grade mares I had some good young mules of my own raising. Others were bought, some in the market, some in my own section, as I found them suited to mate up and fit for classy farm or city teams.

Buying a good grade of young mules, I was nearly always able to work them two or three years and sell for more than the first cost. For all the work of growing crops and feeding there can be no better teams and in some ways they are unequalled. Yet there was always something not satisfactory about it. It seemed that they fitted best in a scheme where everything could be decided by efficiency—so much grain and hay feed; so much team power developed and used to produce an income. An important part, that of living, seemed inclined to separate itself from the business of farming, and the farmer was likely to become a business man for revenue and the pleasure of conquest. The family becomes the family of a business man, interested in the business only or almost only through the income. Presently the business man finds that he has a double problem; to produce an income and to live a life. And that rather complex condition tends to simplify itself by the farmers' producing the income and the family's living the life.

These things were not reasoned out just this way, but the creative work of a breeder appealed to me strongly, for I had grown up surrounded by the young things on the farm. The calves and I had trained one another, one at either end of the halter rope. Then they were a boy's team of oxen, starting with a yoke not much bigger than a fork handle and hitched to a hand-sled, graduating into a full-sized ox yoke resurrected from under the chaff in the hay mow and hauling stove wood or corn on a one-horse sled, "just like the other men." Apart from the work teams, all the stock on the farm was kept purebred along its line, and much of it registered. The drivers were Standardbred and the cows Shorthorn; excellent Southdowns and Poland-Chinas were around. But the teams were grades or mules, many times requiring to be introduced anew, after each protracted period of idleness, to a form of work for which they had no breed liking. The mental and physical ease with which some of the heavier teams of draft breeding would draw a load over soft bottoms was a great contrast to the fretting, short-stepping and lunging that went with some other team, which was geared for faster going and required real horsemanship to keep it from either quitting the job in a fudge or overdoing itself entirely, so annoyed was it by the unnatural gait that it was forced to travel.

With these experiences as boy and man, on a farm where the team-power was becoming more and more important, it was only natural to look to some breed to the manner born when I began thinking of raising my teams again. There were purebred draft stallions around, but almost no mares, but there were no Belgians. My acquaintance with them was in the showing at the state fair and the international, but they had a uniform appearance of hardiness and so vigorous a way of getting themselves around that I hunted up and bought an imported mare. Then there was only one way out—on through. Buying two more imported mares did not prove an inducement enough to make conveniently available a satisfactory Belgian stallion, and under protest I bought one myself. There seemed to be no place in the farm economy for an extra man to look after one horse, so that the new purchase went to work along with the mares; whether it was plowing, planting, harvesting or hauling feed in the winter the stallion was a regular as well as the mares.

Experience gained years before and reinforced by keeping a stallion showed me that overworked mares were a good beginning for a slim colt crop, and I have carefully avoided that shoal which has wrecked many a promise of profit hereabouts. Perhaps I have given the matter of care too much and the inherent ruggedness of the breed too little credit, but between the two I have had no trouble getting a high percentage of mares in foal—often 100 per cent. Yet what I think of as good care is simple, just good oats and corn and hay, not too much, and nearly all the time a run on blue-grass pasture at nights when it is not too stormy, and in the daytime also, when the horses are idle, unless it is very stormy or flies are too bad. I always try to save the energy they would spend shivering through a sleet or fighting flies in the heat for more profitable uses. A night in a six-foot tie-stall, with plenty of bedding to keep them clean, will bring the mares out almost any morning in such condition that necessary exposure to storm, or their work possibly in muddy going, is not exhausting. They seem glad to get out and then presently glad to get back, and may be that is what is called the joy of living, for man or horse—just feeling up to the job on hand and eager for it. Any way, a Belgian mare that is fed and worked so that she will carry 1,800 to 1,900 pounds in a great big rolling trot to the water trough when unhitched and turned loose and then comes back the same way to the stable door must surely be getting some joy out of living. I know that it makes me feel fine to see them do it, and my experience has been that the insurance risk on Belgians so handled is low indeed.

But after everything possible has been done, there are factors remaining that are only luck. Sometimes they are good and sometimes bad, and I have tried always to reduce the chances that are really luck to the smallest possible number if I had or take prompt advantage of them if good. Any one will allow that it is good luck, though he may call it by some other name, if the foals come three or four stallions to one filly, while almost as surely mares lost through wrong presentation of foals can only be attributed to chance. Colic and naval troubles are practically removed from the bad luck to the bad management column, but it is a man's job to keep these troubles where they belong, and the man requires to be on the job too. To me it is a pleasure of a stormy night to go to the stable and loose the Belgians, one after another, and let them parade themselves down the hallway to the water trough. It is a study to see how each one has its own individual way of going, each time, and it must surely keep a horse's mind off the troubles of close confinement to be able to look forward to that walk almost nightly and a handful of oats or a fresh bunch of hay when he goes back to the stall. Can any one estimate the motive power of hope in man or animal? It must be God's incentive to the whole animal kingdom to keep us going.

It seems to me that I now come to the most important part of this narrative, although the Belgians begin to play a minor part. The whole family has always been much wrapped up in the horses, especially in the young things. Before he was able to manage them alone, Jesse began to keep a weekly record of the weights of the colts. Often he would come and ask me to tell him why some promising youngster was not keeping up the pace it had been going or why some other one was so much behind its sister at the same age. Among us we would try to find and assign to its proper place each cause that had been for or against a sturdy, rapid growth. No matter how self-sufficient a boy may feel at times, he is quick to go to his sister for help, when a new colt is to be named, and, aided by a younger brother, things otherwise impossible become easy, when book school is out Saturday and a string of colts to be weighed; or the foundation for team work is laid when Alfred or sometimes one of his sisters wants to help at feeding time and asks how much to put in each box.

The weekly trip to the scales teaches the colts quite a bit about manners, and the daily attention to feed and comfort keeps the hair glossy and the flesh good, so that when the local fair comes not much is necessary to line up a good show. The draft class is changed from a morning show with few to see to an afternoon show on the big day when a roped ring is necessary to keep the crowd back and the races have a rival as an attraction. If a lot of young things bred all alike and well-fitted are of the type that suits the judge, ribbons of the right colors are likely to come pretty lively; so that a trip to the state fair and another trial for showing honors may be planned.

Jesse goes in the car "with the other men," and a boy from town hides under the hay, fearful lest the brakeman find too many passengers in the car. All the family look forward to show-day and make a bee-line for the stalls as soon as they pass the turnstile. Should uniformity and the type, with a bit of fitting and some manners, strike the judge, the run of ribbons may be good again, and in the evening, if you take time to look up in the balcony, you may find the school teacher and the preacher and more folk from home than you expected to see, and the aunt from the city and the cousin who knows more about automobiles than horses, who have all been there for hours. Jesse and the chum from town have been showing all day, but they are not tired. You are not so sure about yourself, but you are glad you decided to come. You are more appreciated by the people in the home county than you had thought and you find strangers interested in you because interested in the breed you champion. You have given your boys a chance to get first-hand information, whether they want to be farmers or not. This Christmas time, as the fire glows and you look forward and back, you would almost like to make their decision for them.

Do you think that a man can join the breeders of purebreds with all these opportunities and more before him, without profiting much? For you it may be cattle, sheep, hogs or poultry. For me it was Belgians."

SUFFRAGE PASSES VOTE 274 TO 136 NOW TO SENATE

(By American Press)

Washington, Jan. 11.—A resolution providing for submission to the states of the so-called Susan B. Anthony amendment for national enfranchisement of women was adopted by the house. The vote was 274 to 136.

The amendment received exactly the required number of votes. But for the promise of Speaker Clark to cast his vote from the chair for the resolution if it was needed, the change of a single vote to the opposition would have meant defeat.

Republican Leader Mann, who came from a Baltimore hospital, where he has been under treatment ever since congress convened, and Representative Sims of Tennessee, just out of a sick bed, and hardly able to walk to his seat, brought the votes which settled the issue.

Advocates of the amendment had been supremely confident of the result in the house after President Wilson advised the members who called upon him to support it. They were so confident that the close vote was received with amazement and some of the opponents were almost as much surprised.

When the first roll call was finished unofficial counts put the result in doubt, and before the speaker could make an announcement there was a demand for a recapitulation. Then the name of each member and the way he was recorded was read.

Ohio members voted as follows: For—Democrats, Brumbaugh, Crosser, Sherwood; Republicans, Cooper, Emerson, Fess, Hollingsworth, McCulloch.

Against — Democrats, Ashbrook, Claypool, Gard, Gordon, Key, Overmyer, Snook, Welty, White; Republicans, Kearns, Longworth, Switzer. Absent—Heintz.

Announcement of the vote was greeted with wild applause and cheering. Women in the galleries literally fell upon each others' necks, kissing and embracing and shouting "Glory, glory, hallelujah." The resolution as adopted follows:

Joint resolution proposing an amendment to the constitution of the United States extending the right of suffrage to women. Resolved, by the senate and house concurring therein, that the following articles be proposed to the legislatures of the several states as an amendment to the constitution of the United States, which, when ratified by three-fourths of said legislatures, shall be valid as part of said constitution, namely:

Article — section 1. The right of citizens of the United States to vote shall not be denied or abridged by the United States or by any state on account of sex. Section 2. Congress shall have power, by appropriate legislation, to enforce the provision of this article.

Every attempt made to amend this language was beaten. Representative Put of Ohio tried unsuccessfully to put on it the same limitation carried by the resolution for the prohibition constitutional amendment, that it must be ratified by the states within seven years from the date of its submission. Representative Moore of Indiana sought to have a referendum or special convention in each state required. The Gard amendment was rejected, 159 to 246, and the Moore amendment, 121 to 272.

Suffragists already have begun their fight for favorable action on the senate side of the capitol. Recent polls there have indicated that the necessary two-thirds vote could not be mustered, but, encouraged by the house victory and counting upon the influence of President Wilson, the suffragists hope to bring the senate into line as to have the amendment before state legislatures during the coming year. They feel sure, at least, of forcing a vote in the senate before the present session ends.

PIANO MAN SHORT TAKES DEPARTURE

Officials of the Starr Piano Co., of Richmond, Ind., are looking for Mr. R. M. Straley, who has represented them in Greenfield for several months past, and who they claim has departed for parts unknown, taking with him considerable money which they allege belongs to them.

Straley left here a week ago Monday and has not been seen since. Mr. F. M. Hewitt, sales manager of the Starr Co., at Cincinnati, and J. Sarber, credit man in the Cincinnati house, have been here for several days, checking over accounts. They state the books are in bad shape, and that the instruments of various kinds have been sold for what could be obtained for them.

Messrs. Cole & Cole, who have had the handling of the Starr Piano Co. and by Messrs. Cole & Cole. The representatives of the company here are doing what they can to straighten up the matters and get things in the right shape.—Greenfield Republican.

HOW A WASHINGTON SOLDIER DISPERSED ATTACKS

"For two years my stomach trouble was very bad, my doctor had to inject morphine on several occasions when I was stricken with these attacks. Since taking 4 bottles of Mayr's Wonderful Remedy I have been entirely well and am serving in the United States Artillery, having been pronounced in perfect health by Government physicians." FURTHER INSTRUCTION FOR THE NEW OFFICERS CAMP SHERMAN SCHOOL

(By American Press)

Chillicothe, O., Jan. 11.—Six hundred officers at Camp Sherman, mostly graduates of one of the second training camps, will attend another officers' school which is soon to start at Camp Sherman. The school is expected to accomplish a number of things. Camp Sherman is flooded with officers, due to the arrival of hundreds from Fort Benjamin Harrison and a number since then from other schools. One of the southern training camps will send 100 here this week.

The division had nearly its full quota of officers before the arrival of the Fort Benjamin men and the new school is designed to provide a place for them. The officers will spend five days a week at their new work, which will be under the supervision of Brigadier General Holbrook.

The Chillicothe-Camp Sherman taxicab situation remains unchanged. While it is generally conceded that government investigators are working here no word is to be had of their findings so far.

The Three Hundred and Thirty-first infantry went to the rifle range for the first time. The regiment will be stationed at the range for two weeks if the weather will permit. Under the instruction of Lieutenant Colonel MacNab, division firing instructor, officers of the regiment look for excellent results.

"DORA" ABUSED

(Associated Press Correspondence) London, December 30.—The Defense of the Realm Act, which has been nicknamed "Dora," has come in for more abuse, from hair dressers owing to the embargo put on the use of spirits for general use. The measure has become necessary in consequence of enormously increased demand for munition and Red Cross needs.

Dry shampoos and hair lotions are all threatened by the latest order of "Dora," and as the use of methylated spirit for burning purposes is also forbidden, thousands of forced-draught oilstoves which cannot be lighted except by the aid of spirit, are made useless.

HAD THE GRIP THREE WEEKS.

With January comes lagrippe. Lingering colds seem to settle in the system, causing one to ache all over, feel feverish and chilly, tired, heavy and drooping. Mrs. Lizzie Tyles, Henderson, Ky., writes: "My daughter had lagrippe for three weeks. I gave her Foley's Honey and Tar and now she is all right." Blackmer & Tanquary. Advt.
